Dear Friends,

Pope Francis recently stated, “Love and charity are service, helping others, serving others. There are many people who spend their lives in this way, in the service of others. … When you forget yourself and think of others, this is love! And with the washing of the feet the Lord teaches us to be servants, and above all, servants as He was a servant to us …” — Jubilee audience, March 12, 2016

For over 100 years, Catholic Charities’ mission has been to serve local families. Whether it is resettling refugee families from the Congo in Cincinnati or feeding hungry families in Adams County, Catholic Charities is here to serve the poor and vulnerable in Greater Cincinnati. In 2018, Catholic Charities served 11,000 people with direct service and delivered over 4 million meals to those in need in the Archdiocese of Cincinnati.

Catholic Charities is more than a social services agency of the Church. With your help and generosity, Catholic Charities fulfills our mission to love our neighbors in the Archdiocese of Cincinnati as ourselves. Thank you for your support of, and participation in, this mission. Let us together pray for the poor and vulnerable of our community.

Sincerely yours in Christ,

Most Reverend Dennis M. Schnurr
Archbishop of Cincinnati
Catholic Charities Southwestern Ohio has served local families since 1916. In 2018, through God’s mercy, volunteers and supporters improved the lives of families in the Archdiocese of Cincinnati:

- 1,957 individuals received emergency assistance
- 4,254 volunteers served through Catholic Charities
- 3,079 individuals received health screenings and referrals
- 1,005 children counseled in early childhood mental health
- 10,519 individuals receive care from client direct services

This annual report shares Catholic Charities role in serving the poor and vulnerable in Greater Cincinnati. We will share three stories from the thousands of individuals who benefit through encounters with Catholic Charities staff, supporters and volunteers. The first story is about Jorge and Glenda’s journey to the U.S. from El Salvador and how the Su Casa Hispanic Center English for Speakers of other Languages program has strengthened their family in Cincinnati:

A second story is about Sancha, who resettled in Cincinnati from Bhutan through the Refugee Resettlement Program. Catholic Charities guided her and her family to self-resiliency and succeeding in financial independence in Greater Cincinnati.

The final story is about Cindy and her challenges with her 4-year old daughter Caitlin who witnessed her father having a stroke. Our Early Childhood Development Consultation Program has played a large role in helping Caitlin deal with the acute stress brought on by observing this event as well as building a relationship with her mother.

As a family, more people were served last year than the year before and there is still more to do. Addressing the poor and the vulnerable is only possible through God’s grace and loving mercy that comes alive through your actions. Catholic Charities is truly blessed to do God’s work through the kindness of many donors and volunteers.

On behalf of the families who work hard to realize their dreams, Catholic Charities wishes to express our gratitude for your support and will respect special directions. For answers to your questions about giving, Daniel Sarell, Director of Mission Advancement, is at your service at 513-672-3710 or dsarell@ccswoh.org.

As a generous benefactor, you have unique priorities and reasons for giving. We appreciate your support and will respect special directions. For answers to your questions about giving, Daniel Sarell, Director of Mission Advancement, is at your service at 513-672-3710 or dsarell@ccswoh.org.
Barkley sits silently at a small desk in the pristine but small apartment in Pleasant Ridge where he now lives with his Mom, Dad and little sister. His eyes stare intently at the paper before him as he practices drawing a menagerie of animals. A seal, pelican, seahorse and a goat take shape all while his father, Jorge, describes the extreme gang threats the family endured in El Salvador just a few years before. That sweet and bright 8-year-old, who wants to be a doctor when he grows up, was not shocked or surprised at all, as it is his story, too.

Jorge and Glenda had a plan on how to get ahead in the U.S. Aside from the legal process, they always knew they needed to become part of the community At Su Casa Hispanic Center, a program of Catholic Charities Southwestern Ohio, they found what they were looking for.
THE LONG JOURNEY TO CITIZENSHIP

Sancha tilts her head to one side, her hands opening like the wings of a butterfly, as she describes the tumult of 1992. That was the bulk of the minority Lhotshampas (Nepali-speaking Bhutanese) citizens, most of whom are Hindus in the predominately Buddhist kingdom of Bhutan, were essentially made illegal in their own homes. Dress codes were instituted, temples were closed under the protection of UNHCR (United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees) in Nepal where they were previously known.

“My hospital appointments, transportation, even the citizenship paperwork—Catholic Charities helped with everything,” says Sancha, whose gratitude radiates from her smile like the sunniest of days.

The two of them, Tara and Sancha, chat easily in Nepali about family, the weather, how the garden is growing and future plans. If you ask Sancha her dreams for the future, she will answer with no hesitation at all. All of her dreams have come true. She is an American. She has her family. Her grandchildren are flourishing in school. Sancha is welcomed and safe. She is home.

Little Caitlin giggled in delight watching her sundress twirl around her legs on a beautiful Sunday afternoon. As she spun in circles on the cafe sidewalk, her mother told the story of how they got to this spot and how far they’ve come on their journey toward healing.

It came like a lightning bolt from nowhere, the stroke that nearly killed Caitlin’s dad and Cindy’s love of a lifetime, Matthew, this past October. Caitlin was there when it happened. She brought her daddy a trashcan when he said he was feeling sick. Cindy was at work at her new job not knowing that she had a cell phone full of missed texts and calls. Matt survived and is making great progress. But their old lives, the way things used to be, ended that day to be replaced by months in ICU, emergency surgeries, scary procedures, a blur of white coats, rehabilitation and care plans.

“It’s been a long road,” said Cindy as she watched her daughter play. “We were very blessed to have Caitlin in a great daycare facility. Michelle of Catholic Charities Southwestern Ohio was already working with Caitlin’s class teaching them social skills, how to handle emotions and deal with their feelings through Incredible Years®. Incredible Years® is an evidence based 30-week program that teaches anger management and social skills to children 8 and under. When the daycare found out about Matt, the director told us that we might be interested in working with Michelle to deal with Caitlin’s behavioral concerns following the stroke. “I was so focused on my inner turmoil that I didn’t really catch on right away that she (Caitlin) was hurting, too. Michelle was a tremendous help.”

For 3 months, Michelle, a trained Early Childhood Mental Health Consultant funded by Catholic Charities, met with Caitlin and Cindy for consultation in the classroom. Behaviors in the classroom were stabilized through coaching, calm down strategies and classroom support.

From there, Catholic Charities progressed to address Caitlin’s mental health challenges. Over 6 months, mother and daughter each had an hour-long session once a week. When providing counseling to the young family, Michelle, also a licensed mental health therapist, would even meet them at the daycare saving extra trips and lost time. Her counseling alleviated guilt and provided guidance for how to keep the family together. Michelle soothed psyches and tended to their souls.

This cost Cindy nothing, and that is a true blessing. Before the stroke, they were a two-income family just trying to stay healthy waiting for Cindy’s benefits at her new job to kick in. After the stroke, Matt was definitely unable to work. With all of her new care-taking responsibilities, Cindy had to leave her job, too. Catholic Charities providing this service was the only way they could have gotten this much needed help.

Matt is much more independent now and Cindy’s been able to go back to work. With the skills gained in her work with Michelle, Cindy has been empowered to lead her family to continued growth and healing. And little Caitlin is eagerly looking forward to starting kindergarten this fall.

Catholic Charities has enlightened Cindy’s way on his “long road” her family travels together. Despair has been replaced with hope. Sadness and anger have been quieted and tamed making way for laughter and joy. Feelings of guilt and blame have been cleared away making room for new family memories—catching lightning bugs with dad, swimming at grandma’s, dreaming new dreams—going faithfully forward to where the road leads next.
